

page two

Each day the ornithopod herd browses on tender leaf tips, fern fronds and bright berries. Ollie and the other growing dino-lings learn how to melt into the dappled shadows and hide from terrifying tangle-toothed theropods.

Theropods are always hunting for munchy, crunchy ornithipods.

Young Ollie
ornithopod
and the terrifying tangle-toothed theropod

